BY THE EDITOR

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.—Acts 4:22

In case you have heard nothing about it, which is a wild assumption, please vote Saturday and, while voting, vote FOR the bond issue.

Country newspapers like the GCW have feasts one week, famine the next, so far as revenue is concerned. We are having a feast THIS week, and know we are in for famine next week. Therefore, we are going to take it easy next week and, just as soon as we have 4 pages ready to print, we are going to print them, put them in the post office, even if it is Monday night, take off and go to fishing. In advance we are sympathizing with Brother Grimes and his crowd who probably are faced with a big paper every day for five long, weary hot days. For our part, we are going to get thru in a hurry and quit for the rest of the week. Don't look for much next week!!

I am not even urging folks to get 'copy in early' for the chances are that, no matter how early, it won't get in next week.

It may interest you to know that this issue is No. 52 of Volume 17 and it marks 17 years of continuous publication. How we have got by all these years, I just don't know, but we do deserve ONE week of comparative rest and we are going to take it. ONE week in SEVENTEEN years!!

See where John Boyd has the contract for the road work in the dam area. John don't monkey around. He has the things it takes to get the job done: men, equipment and know-how.

Look at that blacktop road from Holcomb to Oxberry. We who travel that road all the time hardly missed the time John was resurfacing it.

Speaking of Oxberry and Holcomb, thanks to Gladys Staten for one supply of fine tomatoes, and to Volney Mason for another.

Every person likes to read his OWN name in print and so it is about hearing one's own voice via radio. I put my voice in that box Jimmie Pinnex totes around to catch the fishing gossip, then, of course, listened back to hear it again.

In effect, did you realize that Jim Eastland took 3,000 cotton acreage out of Grenada Lake and distributed it to farmers in dry areas of the county and did the same for Calhoun and Yalobusha counties, the only 3 counties in the nation that received such preferential treatment. In view of that, you can hardly fail to vote for our redeemer.

And, by the way, Albert Cohen and I, who gave Carroll Gartin a dollar each last Sunday, got a nice letter from him Tuesday.

Whatthehell Lloyd Turner of Moun tain Home, Ark. wanted with the GCW and, as a matter of fact, who he is, are unknown to us, but we welcome him as a new subscriber.

We also welcome several rams and lambs returned to the GCW fold: K. W. Owsley of Alabama, Mrs. E. A. Penn now of Jacksonville, Oscar Staten of Oxberry and Russell Brunson of Avalon; also another new one, Mrs. W. L. Wyatt of Columbus, Ga.

After we get the paper out next week, probably Tuesday, we will be both in and out of the office. If you REALLY want something, we will try to do it for you.

'Whyte, you cant say now that Mississippi aint never give Grenada County nothing?', said Governor White Friday night after he and his associates had set aside a quarter of a million dollars for the two camps at Grenada Lake. So right you are, Governor White.

If this is YOUR farm, you can get, without charge, a nicely mounted picture of the farm, but you must come to the Grenada County Weekly and identify it.

While you are in the GCW office, we hope to interview you and get a story, for subsequent publication, about this property and about your family.

If you need other photographs of the above, either the size shown, or larger, or on postal cards, the GCW can, and will arrange for them. A reasonable charge, of course, will be made for these reproductions. Let us show you samples.

SENATOR EASTLAND
SPOKE HERE FRIDAY

Brad Dye Introduced Him

Senator Jim Eastland, speaking in the courthouse square Friday night, told a Grenada County audience that his 'experience and seniority' enabled him to get 'a special cotton acreage allotment for Grenada and adjoining counties which offset the loss of land to the Grenada Lake.'

The senator was introduced here by Brad Dye, Sr., local attorney. Representative William Winter served as master of ceremonies.

The acreage apportionment was in connection with the adoption of Public Law 200, and 'unfroze the cotton acreage at the bottom of the lake', the senator said. Under the bill, Grenada County got 3,000 extra acres over the original allotment announced last fall by the Department of Agriculture.

Senator Eastland said he will be 12th in seniority in January. 'Don't you know', he said, 'that in situations like we have today your interests could be better protected by a man in 12th place instead of a man in 96th place?'

A hard fight to retain maximum support prices for cotton and dairy products was predicted by Senator Eastland.

Recalling his trip to Washington and a meeting of the senate agriculture committee, the senator said:

'We were able to get committee approval by a margin of 8 to 7 of the Eastland-Thye amendment to raise dairy support prices from 75 to 86 per cent. But the administration is fighting us on these support prices and we will have a hard fight ahead when the bill goes to the floor of the senate.'

Conservation around the Home and for the boys will be on Forestry, Soil Conservation, Wild Life and Crops.

He said he is in constant contact with Washington, and when the bill reaches the floor, I plan to fly back and make a determined fight, along with other senators, to keep support prices high.

The senate committee already has favored 90 percent supports for cotton and basic crops, he said, but the margin was just 8 to 7.

If Mississippi loses its place on the agriculture committee, he added, it will be a blow against our future chances of keeping maximum price supports.

Senator Eastland said a drop in support prices will create a depression among the farm states, and pointed out that it is more economical for the government to furnish support prices than to finance another WPA if we have a depression.

A national association which can pledge candidates in the north and south was termed by Senator Eastland as the only answer to the supreme court ruling on segregation.

He said the association would fight for a constitutional amendment he proposed in the senate which would curb the power of supreme court and restore to states exclusive jurisdiction over education, morals, marriage and police power.

Let's make no mistake about it, Senator Eastland said. The recent decision of the supreme court has abolished the legal basis for segregation. It is imperative that we re-establish a legal basis if we are to continue to preserve our southern traditions.

He said the constitutional amendment, which would be submitted to the voters is the only way to create a new legality to segregation.

If anybody has any better solution, he said, I would like to hear it.

He charged, racial CIO leadership, with forming an alliance with the NAACP in a campaign to get the favorable ruling from the supreme court.

The CIO is not primarily a labor organization, he said, but instead is an organization designed to revolutionize the American and southern way of life. I don't believe union members in Mississippi are in sympathy with the CIO political program.

He said the CIO controls elections in many states and added: 'That's why we must create the national association to pledge candidates on states rights and free enterprise. We will beat them at their own game because people in the north want segregation just like the people in the south.'

"Miss Carrie" Will Be 91
Sunday, July 25

Grenada's beloved Mrs. Carrie Goodwin will celebrate her 91st birthday on Sunday July 25. Miss Carrie, as she is affectionately called, has been blind for many years, and as the years pass, her life becomes more of an influence for graciousness and more widely spread.

Without her knowledge, this is being written. Remember to call on her, send her a card or if you so wish, a small remembrance.

We Cant Say Grenada Aint Got Nothing

HUGH WHITE GIVES US A QUARTER MILLION

Following an official inspection of the Grenada Lake last Friday, the entire personnel of the State Building Commission, headed by Chairman White, the commission voted in favor of the extent of $250,000 in establishing 2 state parks on the south side of the lake for white people, and Carver Point on the north side for colored folks and agreed that work would start shortly, as soon as complete plans can be made. Hopes were expressed by Chairman White that work would be finished sometime in 1965.

During the necessary preliminary work and planning for these parks, Col. T. B. Simpson, District Engineer of Vicksburg had shown remarkable cooperation and it is he who is the real 'boss' of the U. S. Engineers in this lake section, as well as boss of all similar installations in Mississippi. Juel Batson, Chairman of the Reservoir Committee and his staff members have worked indefatigably in promoting this work. Billy Semmes and William Winter, Grenada representatives in the state legislature, were responsible in getting necessary state laws to effectuate the deal. John Brewer, President of the Chamber of Commerce, was in general command of the work leading up to the establishment of the two parks. In 1 way or another, practically everybody in Grenada County, including the county supervisors, cooperating in the deal.

At each of the two camps, Orchard Bay and Carver Point, a lodge and a number of cabins will be built, a boat dock installed, an artesian well dug and a picnic area established.

At First Baptist Church

In the absence of the pastor of First Baptist Church next Sunday, Dr. Harry Leland Martin of Senatobia, Mississippi, will preach at both morning and evening services. Dr. Martin is well known in Mississippi, having served as pastor of the First Baptist Church, Senatobia, for twenty years, retiring only a few months ago. Previous to this he pastored in churches at Indianola and Lexington. He was educated at Union University, Jackson, Tenn., and Southern Baptist Seminary at Louisville, Ky. Miss College at Clinton conferred upon him the honorary D. D. degree.

In the morning service he will preach on the subject 'The Superlatives of Life' and in the evening on the subject 'Our Unknown God.'

VETERAN COUNSELOR TO BE IN GRENADA

Marion A. Venturini, Assistant Commissioner for veterans affairs, will spend Thursday, July 29 in Grenada. Office space has been made available for him in the Courthouse.

Venturini is an overseas veteran of World War II and has been employed in claims work for veterans and their dependents since 1945. He is familiar with the policies and procedures of the Veterans Administration and other agencies which handle veterans' benefits. As an employee of the State of Mississippi there is no charge or fee for his services.

All veterans and dependents of veterans who need advice, assistance or counsel in regard to problems arising from active service in the armed forces are urged to contact Venturini during his stay. His services and assistance is not confined to men who had World War II duty. Claims of veterans and widows of veterans of First World War are handled by the Veterans Affairs Commission and of course those of men who had service anywhere since June 27, 1950. Any person serving since June 27, 1950 is a 'Korean Veteran' whether he served in Korea or not.

Me and Jim!

ed. Orchard Bay has 665 acres; Carver Point, 485 acres. The area at Carver Point is said to be the first such area in the state to be set aside and developed for colored people. Governor White, the ex-officio chairman of the Building Commission, and his entourage first stopped at the Monte Cristo for coffee and conference where it was tentatively decided to go ahead with the deal, but official confirmation was later made at the barbecue-luncheon served on the banks of Grenada Lake. The party later made a boat tour of the lake in boats supplied by members of Grenada Boat Club.

The luncheon, prepared under the direction of the Reservoir Committee and served by the wives of the members of that committee, was a grand affair, perfect in every detail. Governor White and two of his honorary colonels (J. K. Avent and J. H. Oliver) occupied the head place at the front table and it was from that vantage point that the governor announced the unanimous decision of his building commission - to go ahead with plans for both parks and from which announcement, the genial governor received a rising ovation. Governor White, in a brief talk, following introduction by Representative William Winter, spoke highly of the lake as well as of the fine prospect of making a real center of recreation from the beautiful site. He made a tentative promise to supply a 'little more money', should such be necessary to finish the parks.

All in all, it was a grand affair. Everyone concerned (and there were many) with the planning and execution of the visit of Governor White and his entourage is to be commended.

The members of the Grenada County Election Commission have carefully purged the books of Beat 1 in connection with the special bond issue election to be held on July 24, 1964 and have found that 1913 persons are qualified to vote. This means that a total of 967 must vote in the election and at least two-thirds of that number or 638 vote for the proposition.

Poll tax receipts are not necessary at this election provided the voter is marked OK on the books.

In many cases, the books call for production of 1962 or 1963, or both tax receipts. In some cases, the voter may have paid his poll tax in another county, or in some other precinct and upon production of such receipts will be permitted to vote.

Again, many people over 60 register as 21 plus. The election officials do not know their ages and frequently call for receipts. Such people must produce old age certificates to vote. They can be obtained from the Circuit Clerk.

The Attorney General has ruled that voters must register four months prior to the election. People who failed to register prior to March 23, 1964 can NOT vote in this election, although properly qualified otherwise. They can participate in the August primaries if they registered prior to July 9, 1964, or four months prior to the November general elections.

It is becoming increasingly difficult to find election officials willing to serve. For the bond election, despite general enthusiasm, it was necessary to 'draft' numerous citizens. Volunteers for future elections are welcome.

VFW To Have Open Meeting

HOTEL MANAGER
Mississippi's tourist trade exceeds $200 million in revenue for the state each year. Industrial expansion is helping to increase this figure yearly, thereby creating new employment opportunities for hotel managers, desk clerks, maids and other hotel and tourist court personnel.

SPORTING GOODS DEALER
One of Mississippi's chief means of recreation is fishing... on the 75 miles of semi-tropical Gulf of Mexico coast line, or in its hundreds of inland lakes and streams. This means that occupational opportunities are opening up for sporting goods dealers, clerks and salesmen in supplying the necessary equipment for this and other outdoor sports.

SERVICE STATION ATTENDANT
Today more people than ever before are traveling Mississippi's 4,000 mile highway system seeking recreational facilities. This makes new job opportunities available for service station attendants, mechanics, and other personnel necessary in keeping the travelers' cars in top running order.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT IN MISSISSIPPI IS CREATING NEW JOB OPPORTUNITIES

in the field of Recreation

Modern industries realize that if their employees are to work with maximum efficiency they must be given ample free time to relax and have a change of scenery. Then, too, more money is available today for the enjoyment of these leisure hours because of the additional payroll dollars being brought into our state through industrial development.

It is for these reasons that Mississippi's industrial expansion has created new occupational opportunities in the field of recreation and tourist travel.

The creation of these new job opportunities is important to the economic progress of our state. As part of its effort in "Helping Build Mississippi," Mississippi Power & Light Company maintains a fully-staffed Industrial Development Department which works in close cooperation with state and local agencies and groups in helping promote the industrial development which brings about new job opportunities in almost every field of endeavor.

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. George Eddie Davis of Grenada of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Orena Davis, to the Rev. Johnny A. Dinas of Coffeeville, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Dinas of Durant, Miss.

The popular young bride-elect is a graduate of Grenada Hospital School of Nursing in New Orleans, La. Presently employed by Dr. W. B. Hunt of Grenada, she is a member of the Mississippi State Nurses Association, the American Nurses Association and the District Nurses Association.

The Reverend Dinas graduated from Durant High School and received his bachelor of science degree at Miss. State College. While there he was president of the YMCA, president of Pi Kappa Alpha social fraternity, a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary leadership fraternity, Blue Key, and Scabbard and Blade. He was elected to 'Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities' and to the Hall of Fame.

Upon graduation he was presented the Outstanding Graduate Award in the School of Education, and the Scales Character Award.

Following three years service with the infantry during World War II, he attended the School of Divinity at Duke U. where he received his bachelor of divinity degree. In June, 1950, after a year's special study at Duke, Rev. Dinas was appointed minister of the Coffeeville Methodist Church, a position which he continues to fill.

Personnel and final arrangements for the wedding, which will be solemnized Sunday, August 29 at 4 o'clock at Grenada Methodist Church will be announced at a later date.

It's true...

GEORGE WASHINGTON, along with many other of our Founding Fathers, favored beer as the moderate beverage. In fact, Washington's own handwritten recipe for beer is still preserved.

FARMERS BENEFIT widely from brewing since the industry purchases over $250 million worth of farm products each year. In addition, the brewing industry is an important market for more than 100 different trades throughout the nation.

BEER IS USED in many recipes of famous chefs - among them ham baked with beer sauce and Mississippi Gulf shrimp boiled in beer.

IT'S TRUE... that beer carries a higher tax load in Mississippi than it does in any other state in the nation. Largely through increasing public acceptance of legally regulated beer as the beverage of moderation - beer has grown to be the fifth largest taxpayer in the Magnolia State.

"I Take Full Responsibility for Mississippi's Cotton Acreage Allotment!"
-JIM EASTLAND

"Last fall the Republican Secretary of Agriculture announced a drastic cutback in cotton acreage. The national allotment was cut to less than 18,000,000 acres, and Mississippi's acreage was cut to 1,759,641.

"This acreage would have meant a great hardship on our cotton farmers. Many would have faced bankruptcy.

"Because of my seniority and membership on the Senate Agriculture Committee, I was appointed to a three-man subcommittee to write a bill to ease this hardship.

"Remember we were fighting a Republican majority. The Senate presiding officer and majority leader are from California.

"In spite of the cards stacked against us, let's see how Mississippi came out.

"The bill we recommended—known as Public Law 290—gave Mississippi an additional 320,000 acres over that original allotment last fall.

"In 1952, California planted 1,400,000 acres of cotton, and her allotment this year is 900,000. Arizona planted 627,000 acres and her allotment is 400,000. Mississippi in 1952 planted 2,400,000 acres and our allotment this year is nearly 2,100,000 acres.

"Who got the best of this deal? The acreage reduction in California, Arizona, and New Mexico on a percentage basis was more than double that of Mississippi. Mississippi and Arkansas took the lowest acreage reductions of any cotton growing states.

"Furthermore, the acreage reduction of Mississippi this year was much lower than average reductions of other Southern States. Senator Kerr of Oklahoma said on the floor of the Senate that he wished the farmers of his state were as well off as Mississippi farmers under this bill.

"I am proud of the work I did in getting this increase. I take full responsibility for your 1954 acreage allotment.

"You may find out anything you want to know about your acreage at your county ASC office. Their records are open to the public."

The Eastland Sub-Committee bill was supported by Senator John Stennis and every other southern Senator.

It was also supported by every member of the Mississippi Congressional delegation - Representatives Jamie Whitten, Arthur Winstead, John Bell Williams, Thomas G. Abernethy, W. M. Colmer, and Frank Smith.

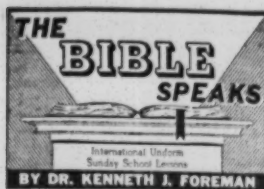

Congressman Abernethy, a member of the House Agriculture Committee, recommended the bill to his committee and urged its passage on the floor.

Growing by Prayer

Lesson for July 23, 1954

IT IS TRUE that we can grow spiritually through prayer; but it is not true that we can grow by just any prayers. Out in Tibet and other parts of the Orient they have these prayer-wheels or prayer flags. A prayer has been inscribed on the wheel or the flag, and every time the flag flaps in the breeze, or every time the wheel turns over, the prayer is supposed to rise. Is a Tibetan who puts out one of those things the most spiritually mature person in any religion? Of course he is not. Jesus told a story about a Pharisee and a tax-collector, both of whom prayed in the same temple to the same God. But the tax-collector grew by his prayer, while the Pharisee certainly did not. When God said to the Israelites, "Though you make many prayers, I will not listen," they were surely not growing by the prayers they had made.

Be Still and Wait

The trouble is that so many prayers are just variations on the one theme, "Gimme." They are selfish through and through, and selfishness never fails to shrink the soul. Then some people in praying do all the talking and never listen to see if God is saying anything to them. "They that wait on the Lord shall renew their strength," the prophet says,—not those who talk loudest and longest. "Be still and know" is as true as it ever was. For the laws of prayer have not changed since man and God first spoke with each other. The prayer by which we grow is not just a one-way thing, a kind of telephone line on which we have only a transmitter and God only a receiver. There is such a thing as being too noisy with our desires and demands.

'In Everything...'

There is another side to this. We ought never to feel shy about asking God's help at any time. Paul says to his friends at Philippi, no doubt from his own experience, "have no anxiety about anything, but in everything... let your requests be made known to God." Paul knew very well that God does not say "Yes" to all our requests. He was in jail at the time he wrote those words. Is it likely he had never prayed to get out? We do know that before this time he had prayed to God earnestly to have a "thorn in the flesh" removed. We do not know what that "thorn" was, perhaps a pain or a disease that could not be cured. Perhaps Paul hoped for some miracle to cure him. But God did not send the miracle; he sent something much better. Paul learned that God's strength is made perfect in weakness, something he would not have known had he not been weak. So while we have every right to offer God our desires in prayer, we have to remember that he knows what is best, and not we ourselves.

'The Throne of Grace'

In conversation, one of the best simple rules is: "Remember to whom you are speaking." This is just as true when we are talking with God as when we are talking with other people. That great phrase in Hebrews, the "throne of grace," expresses two vital truths. One is that our prayers are going to a Throne. God is the sovereign of this universe; his throne is Power itself. There is nothing too hard for the God of the Throne. It is a throne of judgment too; and God knows very well whether we ought to have our prayers answered the way we want them, or not. We have access through Christ to come before God with boldness; but it is to a throne we come, and we must not forget that. We can never dictate to the throne. But it is the throne of Grace. More than mere power sits in control of all things. The true God is a God of love and grace and mercy. "He knoweth our frame, he remembereth that we are dust." God is actually more interested in our welfare than we are in our own. God is more eager to help us than we are to be helped. Our prayers do not so much change God's mind and induce him to do something for us, as they release the divine purpose on our behalf. This is why it is so important to grow, as Christians, into the stature of Christ; for only as we grow Christlike can we become aware of what God's gracious will is, and so be able to pray as Christ himself would pray.

WE BELIEVE

THAT YOUR APPROVAL OF THE PROPOSED McQUAY BOND ISSUE ON SATURDAY, JULY 24, WILL ASSURE GRENADA OF A CONTINUED STEADY AND PROSPEROUS GROWTH TO BENEFIT ALL OF US.

WE BELIEVE:

That opportunity again has knocked at Grenada's door, giving the voters of Beat 1 an opportunity to assure this community of a sound industrial payroll at no increase in taxes. Your vote is to approve a loan which will be paid back by McQuay, Inc., plus interest, over 20 years; a sound investment for all concerned.

WE BELIEVE:

That McQuay, Inc., is a financially sound industry dealing in the air conditioning and heating market, which at the present is one of the lowest saturated markets, thus virtually assuring the company of an expanding business. McQuay's growth will assure Grenada of a like prosperity.

WE BELIEVE:

That McQuay's record since the company's organization in 1932 shows their growth has been steady over the period of years... an indication their business and "know how" in manufacturing has been conducted on a high level, the type industry that fits in Grenada's program.

WE BELIEVE:

That Grenada has enjoyed a good, healthy growth, also based on sound business principles, but that another reliable payroll is necessary in the community to assure a continued expansion. This industrial expansion appears to be the answer to our problem, assuring us of a bigger and better Grenada.

WE BELIEVE:

That Grenada's past industrial experience has been sound and wisely-done, as evidenced by the present industrial program and the cooperation of the citizens of the community. This fact leads us to lend our endorsement and approval of the proposed industrial expansion.

WE BELIEVE:

That the voters of Beat 1 will be alert to the opportunity they have on Saturday, July 24, and make the voting turn-out the largest ever held on a BAWI issue in Mississippi. Help yourself... help Grenada's future... be sure to vote for the Bond issue.

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.—Acts 4:19.

There appears to be almost unanimity in the citizens of this community to vote 'for' the bond issue to finance the McQuay Company's plant on Saturday. The firms and individuals 'boosting' the idea in this issue by no means reflect that they are ALL by any means. Our solicitor did not contact ALL of them, nor did we have space, had ALL been contacted.

It is my personal prediction that the vote-counters after Saturday's election will be able to report that 'Never has a similar bond issue gone over so big.'

Note: You don't have to tote your poll tax receipts to the polls Saturday as this is a general election and not a primary. But your name must be 'clear' on the books.

Remember this birthday: 'Miss' Carrie Goodwin will be 91 on Sunday, the 25th.

If you don't vote at all Saturday you are in effect voting against the bond issue for McQuay Manufacturing Co., but, from what I see and hear, nearly everyone is going to vote, and vote FOR the proposition.

Jimmie Austin, J. Fred's little nephew and our main paper catcher, is a new addition to our working force, but he ain't anything like as good a fisherman as his Uncle J. Fred.

Col. Percy Duggins, a retired army surgeon, now living in Arlington, Va. not only renewed his subscription but took the trouble to pen a nice little note to me who has known him since we were small boys.

John McEachin, I see, has got the city-owned hanger at the air base in fine shape again. It was only until its disintegration with ran and weather, had about made it play out that John began its rescue.

John Violet, an Esso employee at Baton Rouge, also an agriculturist, he makes his money in town, spends it in the country has taken out a subscription to the GCW as he had got a taste of it from Daughter Caroline's copies.

Carroll Gartin is trying to beat Jim Eastland for the U. S. Senate, while Fred Bush is trying to beat Judge Holmes as Chancellor. Asked to give his advice to the citizens of this county on both of these races, Hon. Byron Hunter, Chancery Clerk of this county had this to say:

"Farm of the Week" — Last Week

—This Series Sponsored by Jitney-Jungle, Grenada.

Constant readers of the GCW may have been led to think that Carroll County is just one series of beer joints after another and, if so, such uniformed and badly-informed readers will be surprised and delighted to know that the scene above is the Russell Brunson farm headquarters in the extreme northwest corner of Carroll County and is an outstanding farm of this section. While the aerial photographer was supposed to have confined his photography to farms in Grenada County, he inadvertently got over the county line in his flight and snapped the beautiful picture above, but there is no harm done as the Brunsons, while natives of Cascilla, free state, are well and favorably known in Grenada County, and have many kinsfolk and friends here.

History is bound to record that Russell Brunson, who moved to that section 20 years ago with his wife and four little kids, plus a blind mule and a hound dog, given him by his father, the late William Brunson as a patrimony, has done pretty well for himself and family, as this story and the picture above will verify.

The farm is known as the George Chapman place and was once owned by Lynn Gravel Company, an outfit that mined thousands of car loads of gravel which was used in that era as surfacing material for roads all over North Mississippi.

The old place contains 780 acres of level land, though Mr. Brunson has added over 400 acres of nearby land to his holdings. The land is located less than a mile from the 'valley hills' (the chain of hills that runs from Memphis to Vicksburg) which marks the eastern edge of the so-called 'delta' of the state from the hilly parts.

Mr. Brunson has a helpful wife, the former Miss Ivy Etheridge, native of the free state, 2 sons and 2 daughters. One of the boys, Russell Jr. lives on the place and is a big help in the operation of this farm; another son, William C. is in Korea. Then there is a daughter, Mrs. Paul Williams, and another daughter Ivy Brunson, a senior in high school.

Mr. Brunson is an all-around farmer, raising not only cotton and corn—the staple crops of this section—but beans, hogs and cattle. He lets the animals harvest their own crops, as he has numerous miles of modern fencing.

In his operations he uses no mules but has 8 tractors and tractor equipment, including two mechanical cotton pickers. Eight colored tenants are on his place. In fact, Mrs. Brunson said he kept one colored man just to pick up trash and litter and keep the place neat-looking and orderly. He has done an immense amount of ditching and sub-soiling. He uses plenty of well-selected fertilizer and when gathering times come, he makes big yields of all crops.

The larger of the houses shown above is that of Mr. and Mrs. Brunson. He built it and 'largely used lumber cut from timber on the place. He has two artesian wells, one of which supplies water for the concrete swimming pool shown immediately behind the residence which is entirely air-conditioned and which has hardwood floors throughout.

Being 'hill raised' folks, the Brunsons have plenty of chickens, eggs and hogs, as well as a good garden and, in general, live at home and stay at the same place.

A niece, Mrs. Earl Staten of Ox-berry and a sister, Mrs. Ed Brunson of Grenada, just about tied in identifying the picture as that of the Russell Brunson plantation.

Mr. Brunson, a former subscriber, must have got cut off in the shuffle, but, after coming to Grenada Saturday afternoon to get the farm picture, got in good shape on the mailing list, also sent a subscription to 'Joe Shack' in Cascilla, and ordered a number of reprints of the photograph shown herein.

It is intended as a compliment when we say that, judging from the picture, the Brunsons seem to take as much pride in the upkeep of their farm headquarters as do the Dubards who have their farm headquarters about twelve miles upriver in the Yalobusha River valley. Those who have actually been on the place verify this statement.

GRENADA COUNTY WEEKLY

SEEN, HEARD & TOLD BY THE EDITOR

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard—Acts 4:18.

Albert Cohen and I are always contributing money to losing causes. Not too many years ago, each of us sent Frank Harper a dollar. Sunday, each of us sent Carroll Gartin a dollar to help defray his campaign expenses. Albert was frank to tell him that he wanted him to be sent to Washington to get out of Paul Johnson's hair in 1955. I was equally as frank by writing that, while I was for Jim Eastland, I thought him to be a fine young man and wanted to help him in his efforts, however futile.

Tommie Darras has finally had to eat some paper. Marie Bailey thrust a little lie from last week's GCW into Tommie's mouth. Tommie left, chewing paper. Tommie protested that Whyte Whitaker, not himself, wrote the item, but Marie knew that, if I did write it, it was true, and that's the confidence young folks have in what is in the GCW. They know it may be painful, but true.

I'll say this and not take it back. The barbecue-luncheon served Governor White and other folks at Grenada Dam last Friday by the Reservoir Committee (Juel Batson, chairman) was perfect in all respects and reflects great credit on members of that committee as well as on Grenada itself. I hardly ever go to functions, like that one, and went to this one only after a good deal of urging by Mabel, but can truthfully say I enjoyed it, as well as enjoyed seeing and talking to my old friend Hugh White. He came to the scene in a Cadillac driven by Col. J. K. Avert.

Love of truth forces me to chronicle that, while fishing at Enid Friday, J. Fred Austin caught 2 small fish, Andrew 1 small fish, I, 0 small fish.

As one goes along he finds out a lot of things. Like Saturday afternoon, talking to Mrs. Russell Brunson, I found out that her brother was Dugree Etheridge, one of my old war companions in the 1st world war. You see, a good many of the boys from the free state joined up with us Mississippi fellows to form a company.

Jim Eastland is not a magician or anything like that yet he took cotton acreage out of the bottom of Grenada Lake and distributed it to farmers in Grenada, Calhoun and Yalobusha Counties - no mean feat. By his act, Grenada County farmers today have 3000 more acres for cotton than they would have had otherwise.

For the reason cited above, Eastland should get a bigger percentage of votes in Grenada, Calhoun and Yalobusha Counties than in any similar section.

Carroll Gartin is a mighty nice, ambitious young fellow, and I might vote for him as the next governor if Eastland bents him.

Did you see the cream-colored loading platform at Grenada Lake. That was to facilitate the loading and unloading of Hugh White who is slightly lame.

A few weeks ago, I think I made a faux pas, if that's the way to spell it, in reporting that Billy Semmes, who I characterized as a 'pure-d Eastland man', had introduced Carroll Gartin at Rotary. As a matter of fact Semmes is a 'pure-d Gartin man'. Billy did make one helpful suggestion to Eastland: that he get his pretty gal out on the hostings, trying to help her father. Evidently Brad Dye, Jr. has already taken that suggestion and is squiring that gal about a good deal.

Me and Jim!

TO THE PEOPLE OF YALOBUSHA AND GRENADA COUNTIES

I gratefully acknowledge the splendid support given me in the Special Election held on July 13, 1954 for the purpose of electing a Senator to serve the 28th Senatorial District of Mississippi.

You have elected me to serve you. I shall do this to the fullest of my ability in a way which I hope will reflect the thinking of a majority of the people and in a manner which will merit your continued confidence.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN S. THROOP, JR.
